If Gossip We Must

BY "NINA"

Hello! Everybody! I'll start my gossip with naval news to-day, as everything has been very much naval in Hong Kong just lately. We had been looking forward to Navy Day. Then we had our Navy Day. And now I think everybody feels sorry Navy Day is over.

You must have certainly read in the papers the whole programme and detailed description of the day—and very probably you've seen everything yourselves. Just as well, because I do not think I could tell you much! Do listen to my adventure, as I think I already told you, I had been invited on the Keppel. When I arrived that after we left, I felt so miserable and so very ill that one of the officers had to take me down to his cabin. I lay down on the bunk, and shut my eyes. The sea got rougher and rougher. I could hear the waves beating against the portholes and the chairs rolling on the deck above. About an hour afterwards I recognised Mrs. Marsden's voice in the cabin next door, asking very apologetically whether she was the only one being lousy and causing trouble—and I heard the sick boy attendant answering her. "Oh, No, Madam! all the beds are occupied." Though I was feeling very ill at the moment it did make me laugh, and I hear the officers of the "Witch" are being teased about it. I must say they've been so awfully sweet to all of us on board. I was wonderfully well looked after, was given pills against my seasickness and was offered excellent sherry, bœuf, beef tea and biscuits, but unfortunately couldn't touch a thing.

Suffering, But Still Chic!

I came up on deck 10 minutes before we arrived. Had just the time to powder my nose, to watch a few aeroplanes flying, and to have a look round me. Mrs. J. E. Sissmore, who had also been feeling very poorly, told me I had all her sympathy. She looked, as usual, very sweet and very smart. Mrs. R. M. W. Marsden was wearing the most becoming brown felt hat. I think her suit, her so well, because of her brown eyes and hair. Pretty Mrs. E. C. J. Barry was wearing that cute little white beret I adore on her, and very attractive Mrs. D. G. McAvoy was most chic in a neat black coat and skirt with tiny black felt hat. Pretty little Mrs. Gray looked very sweet in lawn, with golden hair peeping out of a brown hat. Mrs. T. P. E. Kemble was in blue, with a light mackintosh, and looked very smart.

Among the young ones I noticed Minna and Mary Whitham. What nice girls they are! Pretty little Rosalie Alabaster was wearing a thick tweed coat, buttoned right up to the neck. Marion Wolfe had a blue cardigan which matched her lovely eyes. I also saw Ann Dodwell chatting with David Yates and John Richardson of the South Wales Borderers. She looked so dainty all in blue with the most unusual chic blue beret.

Nasty Windy Day.

Alas! perhaps you remember it was a nasty windy day. The sea was very cross. Just a little while before we arrived. Had just the time to powder my nose, to watch a few aeroplanes flying, and to have a look round me.

husband's regiment—a neat little 24 in diamonds. Another lady present looked at it for a long time, expressed her admiration, then suddenly said, "I think it is such a nice way of remembering a date, I was terribly amused! If I'd wear on brooches all the dates I'd like to remember, I think I'd be covered with brooches and numbers all over."

At the Dockyard.

But I must come back to Navy Day! As a matter of fact it was the end of it for me, when I arrived at 12.30, as I'm afraid I spent my afternoon in bed, but the enthusiasm was general, among the hundreds of people who visited the ships in the afternoon. I also hear it was very impressive, very beautiful and very moving when the massed drums of the 1st Battalion The Lancashire Regiment and 1st Battalion The South Wales Borderers beat the Retreat. In the evening I went to the Repulse Bay Hotel. The Commodore and Mrs. Elliott were there, with the Sissmores and a few other naval officers, celebrating the end of a perfect day.

"Sailors' Luck."

On the night before, Friday, I had been to the King's Theatre to see "Sailor's Luck." The film wasn't very good but it was quite a full house, as the receipts of the evening were going entirely to the Cheer O Club. How very nice of the King's Management! And who says civilians in Hong Kong don't do enough for the troops! The Cheer O Club said they needed $35,000. In a few days the subscriptions (made mostly by civilians) have reached $27,000. I think it's simply marvellous.

THE GREAT HURRICANE IN MEXICO

Graphic Description Received By Local Consul

Word has been received here by Mr. Trinidad E. Lacayo, Consul, Honorary Dr. Mexico that the most devastating cyclone in American history has laid waste the great commercial city of Tampico and done untold damage throughout the whole of Mexico. This information arrived in a letter received by Mr. Lacayo yesterday.

Tampico, third largest city in the country has a population of almost half a million people and the damage done is so great that it is feared the whole town will have to be rebuilt. Many of the steamship companies and air services catering for Mexican transportation have placed their facilities at the disposal of the President and are searching the coast line for unfortunate people who have been washed out to sea by the terrific inundation that accompanied the storm. The United States Ambassador to Mexico, after receiving a telegram of condolence from President Roosevelt announced that the American Red Cross Association had donated the sum of $25,000 gold to aid the people of the devastated area. The diplomatic corps of the Mexican Government has given thousands of dollars and the President has issued a proclamation requesting all Mexicans serving in official capacities in foreign countries to contribute one day's salary each to the relief fund. Medicines and foodstuffs are being rushed into the country from all parts of America and cables of condolence have been received by President Abelardo L. Rodriguez from nearly all the powers of the world.

Tampico is situated on the Panuco River, nine miles from the Gulf of Mexico and is close to the heart of the oil fields. British property in this district is estimated at approximately $1,000,000,000 and consists chiefly of wells and oil refining plants. The Tampico oil fields were discovered in 1901 and in the last two years have produced more than 40,000,000 barrels annually. The estimated oil land in the country is 14,320,000 acres, although at the present time only fifteen thousand acres have been developed. Damage done to this property by the recent cyclone is not definitely known but it is certain that the financial loss alone must be tremendous.

GROWTH AND HUMAN PERSONALITY

Bishop Hall's Sermon At Kowloon Union Church

CHRIST'S CONCENTRATION UPON INDIVIDUAL PERSONS

The Bishop of Victoria, the Right Rev. Ronald Hall, preached yesterday morning at the Union Church, Kowloon, taking Growth as the Subject of his address.

Bishop Hall said:—
Our Lord Jesus Christ was fond of growing things. Seed, leaves, little children, are obvious examples. Less obvious are the publicans and sinners with whom he consorted. They were regarded as weeds in the garden of orthodox society. They were altogether too luxuriant in their growth for that prime and proper religious garden. But to Jesus they were things with a capacity for growth, and so he drew to them. But to Jesus and to God they were more than things. Persons are more than things. We make mistakes about persons when we treat them as things. One of the reasons why we have not been able to understand the teaching of Jesus is that nearly all the terms used in philosophy about persons are really pictures derived from things. They isolate the mind, the heart, the reason, from the person. By doing so we in fact treat personal activity as a thing. There is no such thing as a human mind, a human heart, a human will. There is only Mary Anne's heart, John William's mind, and Mrs. Jones' will. Perhaps one ought to go further and say that there is not even Mary Anne's heart, or John William's mind, or Mrs. Jones' will; but only Mary Anne feeling, John William thinking, Mrs. Jones being determined.

JESUS NOT A PHILOSOPHER.

Jesus had no education in a school of philosophy. He did not learn to discuss the difference between the mind and the will, the reason and the emotion. He learned instead to know people by living with them. He knew people as persons living, growing, changing, or merely setting hard like concrete.

But our thinking is so dominated by the learned people of the past, who have sat in their studies and dissected their own experiences. Having tied up little bits into parcels with appropriate labels and pigeon-holed them, they have then re-arranged them, without reference to the fact that they were not really parcels at all because they had no being apart from the person whose experiences they were. Our whole language and way of thinking about life in the world is so dominated by this maudlin habit of Greek and European culture, that we cannot really conceive of a world consisting of people holding together, or falling apart, as those persons held together or fell apart. A famous religious worker among young men in London had an amusing way of exercising a smoke-bummed discussion group. He would take them down the nearest tube and run races up the downward moving staircase. On a downward coming staircase you can only go up by continual effort. If you stop you are carried down. Now, civilisation as we know it is simply made up of innumerable people moving forward or standing still or going backwards. If these people were to stop moving there would be no such thing as civilisation. I do beg you to try and think of a world run entirely by persons. A world only continuing to exist as we know it as long as the various persons of whom it is made up, continue to function as persons animated by certain desires, hopes, ambitions.

PERSONS THE ONLY REALITY IN SOCIETY.

I believe that it was in this way that Jesus saw the world. The foundation of His Kingdom was built upon the rock of reality, because He saw that persons are the only reality in human society. Prohibition laws were ineffective in America because they disregarded this fact. They yielded to the second temptation. They treated persons as things which could be packed into the baggage van of a train to be taken whether the reformers would take them without having any say in the matter themselves. Jesus would rather have one man go His way for love's sake and God's, than the whole world going His way because they had to.

If all this is true, then the only environment for persons is other persons. Growth of persons then, unlike seeds or leaves, comes from the other persons they meet in life. We know to what stature men and women grew who met Jesus in the flesh.

But again notice there is nothing automatic about the effect of personal environment upon other persons: there must be a response from the person. There were many women of the City in the days of Jesus of Nazareth, but only Mary Magdalene was at the foot of the Cross. There were many publicans in Palestine in His day, but only Matthew and Zacchaeus to our knowledge gave up the love of money for the love of Christ. There were many Counsellors of the Sanhedrin in Jesus' day, we only hear of two who had any use for Jesus. One came to Him by night. The other took His body from the Cross.

JESUS UNSUCCESSFUL

Remember that Jesus as a Prophet and Teacher was not successful by the test you would apply in the physical world. If you are trying chemicals in your garden to make your plants grow, the test of success will be in the number of flowers which will respond to the treatment. By this test Jesus is condemned as a failure. There are two reasons for this which are like two sides of a circle meeting at both ends. (1) Because Jesus knew men and knew what was in them: (i.e. what they really were in themselves) he refused to treat them as less personal and individual than they were. He would not appeal to anything less than the whole man, though a partial appeal would have been more successful in surface results. (2) The other reason was this. Because He knew what was in man and what man is, He regarded as sacred the personalities of His fellow-men. He would not take them by storm: He preferred to be lifted up on the Cross to draw them to Himself.

It is this dangerous person we Christians have been drawn to love. It is this dangerous person we are met to worship. It is this dangerous person who uses the written words of the Gospel to speak His own personal message to us. He is dangerous because He is so thoroughly right. A strong man armed is not afraid of any less than He. He alone can find the joints in his armour in which he is trusted. Jesus is dangerous also because once He becomes the environment of a person you never know what will happen to that person. Persons have such an immense capacity for growth that in contact with the person of Jesus Christ they may grow beyond all recognition.

EVEN THE RIGHTEOUS CAN GROW.

To you and me that means three things:—

(1) Jesus says to us emphatically that we can grow. "I come not to call the righteous" He says, "but sinners." The righteous man is one who cannot believe that he can grow any further. A sinner is a man who is growing even if in the wrong direction by taking all that life offers in both hands and damming the consequences. But in his dealings with the righteous and sinners, Jesus' interest was to make them grow.

His dealing with the righteous forced them to ask questions about themselves. When you are forced to face a question that you do not want to answer, you get angry. This is what happened with the righteous people in Jesus' day. They got angry with Jesus because He compelled them to face questions about themselves. Publicans and sinners were already asking questions underneath. He could easily reach those underlying questions by His love and consideration for them. They needed their self-respect restored, they needed to know that they could grow into better than they were. We know that He did this for them. So His dealing with the sinners and the righteous in each case was to convince them of their possibilities for growth. Publicans and sinners had to be shown that they could become better. The righteous had first of all to be shaken out of their righteousness to see that there was a righteousness that exceeded their own.

(2) Jesus' message to-day is still the same. "Everyone of us may grow if we will." Whatever we may have achieved in the past in spiritual life, is but a low rung on the ladder of the possible for each one of us. How does He help us to grow? The men of His own day had Him Himself. His actions: they were under the spell of the growing power of His presence. You and I cannot see Him with our eyes, nor can we hear Him with the ears of the flesh. As this point our Gospels come in. By reading our Gospels with imagination, and with the desire to know Jesus we too can be shaken out of our content. We can be led from imagination and meditation to the prayer of eager friendship and humble love. It is in that praying that we grow, though we know it not. For prayer is a going and coming between the person which is you or me and the person which is Jesus Christ.

DOES THE BIBLE LEAVE YOU COLD?

(3) "But," you may ask, "I have tried to read my Bible, and have continually given it up! The stories which move others so deeply leave me cold—I have heard them so often before." Will this illustration help you. You may have suffered many times at the hands of friends, showing you a book of snapshots of themselves and their children down the years. To you they are just snapshots. They have none of the associations linked up with the experiences of those holidays. Those were your friend's experiences alone. Compare this with a portrait you may have of a beloved mother who has gone to her rest. That has associations for you which you alone can understand. Associations of two kinds. First all that your mother meant to you when she was alive. Secondly—All that has happened in the bedroom or study in which the portrait has been since your mother died. The Gospels can be to you what your mother's portrait is and more; because there is behind them not only a once experienced past but a continually living, present, (Continued on Page 4.)

SANATOGEN
The True Tonic-Food

If you are generally run down or out of sorts and life is rather a burden, you can turn with confidence to Sanatogen. There are plenty of people who have felt like you and who now enjoy life again simply by taking Sanatogen. For Sanatogen adds strength to the strength you have, and on a strong foundation of health your old-time happiness grows up again.

That Sanatogen is a remarkably reliable nerve-strengthening food which will really make you look and feel healthy again, is amply proved by the fact that over 24,000 physicians have stated in writing the favourable results they won with Sanatogen.

The "Medical Times" states emphatically:
"There is no doubt whatever that people taking SANATOGEN improve wonderfully."

Be strong again—have a healthy colour and an abundance of energy. There is no doubt whatever that Sanatogen will do for you what it has done for millions of others. For Sanatogen feeds your body cells with exactly those elements—phosphorus and albumin—from which strength is built up.

"FRA DIAVOLO"

Laurel and Hardy Antics at Queen's

Laurel and Hardy, conceded to be the most popular comedians on the American screen, make their latest appearance in a feature-length comedy in "Fra Diavolo," a story of a pair of rollicking bandits, based on "Auber's famous comic opera.

The picture is reported to be the most ambitious yet undertaken by the noted pair of "Pardon Us" by "Pack Up Your Troubles," its cast including such outstanding names as Dennis King, the noted singer and stage star, and Thelma Todd, who has contributed to the humour of a long list of screen productions.

HAL ROACH PRODUCTION

Also involved in the hilarious incidents of the latest Laurel and Hardy opus are James Finlayson, Lucille Brown, Arthur Pierson, Henry Armetta, Matt McHugh, Lane Chandler, Nena Quartero, Wilfred Lucas, James C. Morton and Carl Harbaugh. The screen adaptation of the comic opera was made by Jeanie MacPherson and the picture was produced and directed by Hal Roach with Charles Rogers assisting.

The story of the two friends who turn bandits in retaliation for being robbed of their life savings just when they meant to retire is permeated with humour from opening to finish. For instance, Hardy is sentenced to be hanged, Laurel is given the hangman's assignment.

Laurel and Hardy flirt with a couple of milkmaids. Laurel waves a red handkerchief. A bull gets the waving invitation and charges.

By mistake Laurel takes a drink containing a sleeping powder and presently falls asleep on his feet. Since it is necessary for him to keep awake in order to perform the function of man-servant to Diavolo, the bandit chief, Hardy has a tough time saving him from being killed.

During a seemingly dull moment, Laurel becomes restless. He begins fumbling with his hands. He originates what is called the "kneesy, earry, nosey" game, and soon the entire household, including the soldiers are fumbling all over themselves in order to master the simple process of mingling knees, ears and nose together.

THEY'RE UNDER SUSPICION

Meanwhile Dennis King, the bandit king, flirts with Lady Pamela (Miss Todd) and steals her money. There is a hue and cry for the bandit's scalp. In an effort to save an innocent person from being accused of the theft, the comedians find themselves looked upon with suspicion.

And then they are captured by the soldiers who also have the bandit chief under control. They are sentenced to be shot. The future looks grim. No hope in sight. Not a friend among a thousand people.

How they come through these complications and how they help effect a reconciliation between the young lovers, in addition to numerous other ticklish moments, serve to make "Fra Diavolo" one of the funniest of the Laurel and Hardy laugh epics.

"SWEEPINGS"

At The King's Theatre

The star of "Sweepings" is supposed to be Lionel Barrymore. He is good—he always is—but then he is one of the few great actors of the modern screen. But in "Sweepings" the honours go not to the famous Lionel, but to Gregory Ratoff, who gives a magnificent interpretation of the part of Abe, the Jewish hired man. From the moment he first appears in a glorious quibble over the amount of wool in a "bargain" pair of socks, to the climax in that great scene where he breaks Daniel Parway with the knowledge that he owns a major share in the store, Abe is the most outstanding personality on the screen.

Helen Mack as Mamie, the one-night love of the youngest son, has only a very small part, but she plays it to perfection, and her final gesture with a flourish of skirts and a cheque for five thousand dollars is a marvel of polished acting.

The rest of the cast is ordinary and the story not particularly interesting; but fine photography and very clever changes from scene to scene lift the film from the usual rut of slowness with a moral. The first flash of the fire that swept Chicago from end to end is most dramatic.

After that the story drags a little in its effort to cram too much of the Parway's life into a series of short shots.

Lionel Barrymore's transition from pride of fatherhood to disillusion is a wonderful study (though it is hard to believe that all the family could have turned out quite so badly).

The film is preceded by a news reel of a different kind, and an excellent travelogue of Paris. Well worth being seen. So be early.

Victor McLaglen here gives the first graphic illustration of what is commonly called "going ga-ga," as the lovely Greta Nissen works her wiles. They have the leading roles in "Rackety Rax," the new Fox comedy of rah-rah racketeers and frantic football.

"THE PAST OF MARY HOLMES"

Dramatic Murder Film at Central

A reporter creating a story for the sake of a sensational scoop, a prosecutor "playing politics" and a mother greedy for personal publicity doom an innocent boy to the electric chair in "The Past of Mary Holmes," RKO-Radio Picture thrilling audience at the Central Theatre with the sheer power of its drama and its splendid acting.

Helen MacKellar, a stage favourite for years, gives a performance of great depth and feeling as Mary Holmes. Ever since the loss of her golden voice when her son was born, Mary has nourished a great hate for him. She persecutes and reviles him at every turn, refusing to let him take her out of the hotel in which she lives in squalor. When he falls in love with Joan he learns from his spiteful mother that he has no name to offer a girl.

Eric Linden and Jean Arthur, as the girl, decide that nothing should deny their love. There is an episode in the girl's past, too, that need to be overlooked—an episode that her manager, Etheridge, doesn't intend she shall forget. He insists that she meet him at night in a lane—and that is how he comes to be murdered.

Because the lane led past Mary's shack and only she heard the shots and saw the car with one light turn out of the lane, she is the key witness. Backing again in the lime-light—flattered, photographed and important—she heaps lie upon lie—until she finds it is her own son she is accusing.

The boy cannot believe her when she vows that, after all, she loves him—the court will not believe that she lied—so she goes out and finds the real murderer herself, and the picture ends thrillingly, with Mary setting fire to the shack and its souvenir—photographs, clippings and a record of her once glorious voice—and going to take up a new life with her son.

It is announced that the wedding of Mr. John W. Walker and Miss Rosa Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young of Macao will take place shortly.

COLONEL BLOOD FILMED

An Artist Talks On Film-Making

Film producers, divided in all else, have one article of faith to which they cling. It is that costume spells ruin at the box-office.

Defying this conviction, with only such as "The Birth of a Nation," "Ben Hur," "The Covered Wagon," "The Ten Commandments," and "The Sign of the Cross," to encourage them, the Sound City company are busy bringing to the screen that engaging scandalous Colonel Blood.

It should be a great success. Blood is a fellow who needs the verve, the amplitude of the screen, to do him justice. He must have had the nerve of a Capone, or he would not have come within an ace of getting away with the Crown Jewels; Charles II, a pretty good judge, evidently found him good company; and at the end of his Tower adventure, when his daring looked like costing him his head, he faced disgrace and death with a cool effrontery that probably did more than anything else to win him his mysterious pardon. Charles presumably considered him to be amusing a ruffian to lose. HIS FIRST FILM.

"Colonel Blood" is being directed by W. P. Lipscomb. It is his first attempt. A scenario writer and something of a dramatist (his "Clive of India" is to be done shortly—I believe at Windsor), Mr. Lipscomb has always cherished the scenario writer's inevitable ambition to direct a picture.

Well, Sound City have given him his chance, and I believe we shall hear more of him. He has an alert intelligence, a sense of humour much subtler than some of his Hulbert epics would lead one to expect, and enthusiasm enough to acquire a sound working knowledge of his period.

It is too early yet to judge his first film as a whole, but I shall be disappointed if it is not full of action, character and amusing incident. Peppy's solemnly proclaiming the speedy and of tea-drinking the King running away from his statement to play with his perpetual-motion machine—out of such human touches he is rightly trying to build up a lively and credible picture of his age. A VETERAN AT 22.

Frank Cellier is playing the middle-aged Irish adventurer (Blood seems to have been about Mr. Cellier's build), and Allan Jeayes the King.

Also in the cast is a newcomer to the screen, Mary Lawson. Miss Lawson has been on the stage for thirteen years and is now a veteran of 22. When she was 9 her sister (aged 14) decided that it was time they set to work. They got a job on the stage, and have been working ever since, in London or on tour, in pantomime musical comedy, revue, stock, repertory and anything else that offered. More recently Mary Lawson has appeared in "White Horse Inn" and "Casanova."

In "Colonel Blood" she plays Peppy's maid Susie, a demure little creature who eventually loses her job because Mrs. Peppy suspects her husband of a warmer interest than becomes an employer. Mr. Lipscomb, who picked her out, has a high opinion of her ability and predicts a brilliant future.

Yet another interesting person on the lot is Laurence Irving, Sir Henry's artist grandson, who is doing the art direction.

ECHOES OF 1859

40-Hongkong's First Chief Justice Criticised

(May 30, 1859.)

The tutelar goddess of Justice in this Colony, either uses false weights, or has had her feelings violated to such a degree, as to bring on hysterics. Really something should be done. Judge, Jury and Magistrate are all to blame in a greater or smaller degree. Whether justice should be dealt out at all, whether with mercy, with vengeance, with a long arm, or with a short one, is really a perfect lottery.

We declare conscientiously that we never could comprehend the parable of the unjust Judge, until we saw it demonstrated in the person of John Walter Hulme Esq. The prominent features in an unjust Judge we should have supposed would be venality, corruption, ignorance or partiality. None of these form the grounds of our Saviour's definition in the parable, which simply elucidates and sums up the characteristics of an unjust Judge in these words. "Yet because this widow troubleth me I will avenge her lest by her continual coming she weary me." Can anyone, cognisant of the fickle illegal decisions of the partial one-sided summings up of the inhuman and unjust sentences—and of the secluded "laissez-faire" of Judge Hulme, read these lines and not be struck with their applicability to him? We look upon his conduct as the source of the erratic irregular stream in which justice flows in the Colony in every ingredient of its composition. To demonstrate its position. About a week ago a jury acquitted a corner, who had not only been detected in the act of having passed, as well as having attempted to pass bad dollars, but with actually having secreted in his house coining implements, etc. The excuse this sapient jury give (we hear) is that not knowing the Chinese had white copper, they did not believe such a man as the prisoner could make so good a counterfeit. Again at the last sessions a man was committed for trial, who had decoyed a boy under false pretences from Nantow to Hongkong—hence he inveigled the victim to Macao, and there placed him in a barracoon, whence he was released by his father on the payment of $32. The Acting Chief Justice decided that the Court had no jurisdiction! Why, good heavens, if the Court had no power to punish the prisoner for selling the victim at Macao, surely the fact of the latter being found in a barracoon might be taken as proof of the prisoner's intention in inveigling the victim from Hongkong—an act which the Court surely had the power to punish.

Then again look at the mutineer, Munro—he not only drew his knife on the Master of the "Messenger", but was allowed to indulge in perjury without let or hindrance in the witness box in giving his evidence against Captain Manton. He actually swore that he was picking his nails with the knife he raised to stab his captain—yet both for mutiny and for perjury he was allowed to go scott free!

We could give twenty other cases all of late occurrence, but have said enough to exemplify our meaning. Let the above be contrasted with some of Judge Hulme's outrageous sentences, which we have no patience to repeat, which are too notorious to render repetition necessary—many of the victims of his severity are still in our Jail, many others have been released by the humanity of the executive. Can anyone contradict the position we started with, that the sentences of our Courts instead of being the dignified exponents of the law, the result of the logical deductions of our statute book—the even handed precepts of justice tempered with mercy—the safeguards of society by the vindication of the majesty of the law—have been for some time looked upon as a complete lotter and fortuitous contingency?

MEXICAN POLITICS

Ex-President Calles To Take Office

Reports from Mexico state that ex-president Plutarco Elias Calles, present leader of the Nationalist Party has announced that he will accept the post of Minister of Finance, recently offered him by President Abelardo L. Rodriguez. His reason for accepting this office is that he intends to co-operate with the present government in every way possible to improve conditions in the country.

Mr. Calles is one of Mexico's most capable leaders and many people familiar with her affairs think that were it not for the legislation prohibiting a president holding office for two terms in succession, he would still be at the helm of the nation.

2,000 HEROIN PILLS!

Defendant Heavily Fined

A charge of unlawful possession of two thousand heroin pills was preferred against a Chinese named Loo Kow at the Central Police Court on Saturday morning.

It was stated by a Chinese detective that defendant was arrested on Friday evening at Tung On Wharf with the 2,000 heroin pills hidden in his bag. Defendant pleaded guilty and told His Worship that he was ordered by a person he did not know to carry these pills and he was to be given a certain sum of money as reward.

Mr. Balfour fined him $2,000 with the alternative of going to prison for four months. An order for the confiscation of the pills was made.

CRICKET FESTIVAL

There is no English holiday more charming and well-loved than a cricket festival. Canterbury, the heart of England, if not the parent of these gatherings has the most famous and delightful Cricket Festival—with Kent: the most sporting of sides playing, not a dour Northern team, but Sussex, the old enemy over the border, or Zumersett Lads, or the Londoners from Lords or the Oval, Canterbury, with its lawns and elms, the Cathedral shadow, and at the end of the day, the Canterbury Players, giving some soufflé farce, by Barrie or Miln, or, greatly daring, a Restoration comedy, tactfully cut to modern taste. Thus the model, followed faithfully in spirit at Horsham, and Cheltenham, Taunton and many another town, where the cricket, may not be first class, though often graced by giants of the past, long vanished from "the averages," but active enough in one of the Clubs.

Hong Kong's Cricket Festival lags a little, though hospitality is keen enough. The A.D.C. used to stage a show, and perhaps they will do so again. However, the great thing is that during the next fortnight we shall have the pleasure once again of seeing representatives of Shanghai and Malaya in the cricket field playing local teams. The occasion seems appropriate for looking through some of the musty tomes in which are recorded the doings of giants of early days. The encounters between Hong Kong and Shanghai extend over a period of sixty-seven years, as the first match was played in Hong Kong as far back as 1866.

After return matches the following year in Shanghai, there was a break of twenty-two years before the teams met again (also in Shanghai), but it was not until February, 1892, that another match was played in Hong Kong. It was towards the close of 1892, when the Hong Kong team was returning from Shanghai, that the lamentable tragedy of the P. and O. Bokhara occurred. Only two members of the entire Hong Kong team—Dr. J. A. Lawson and Lieut. Frank D. Markham—were saved. The vessel left Shanghai on October 8, and was seen two days later labouring heavily in a tremendous sea. On the 14th a cruiser was sent out from Hong Kong to search for this missing liner, but no news came until three days later, when a telegram from the Captain of H.M.S. Porpoise, dispatched from Swatow, reported that the Bokhara had sunk in a typhoon off Sand Island, Pescadores, with the loss of about 125 lives.

The first match of the Interport series was played in Hong Kong in February, 1886, and is described in the "old scoring books" as a match between "Shanghai and the Civilians of the Hong Kong Cricket Club." The "Civilians" had matters practically their own way: Hong Kong only required to bat once, and compiled the colossal total of 430! Shanghai scored 107 and 59, an aggregate of 166, leaving the home team winners by an innings and 284.

Shortly after the middle of January in 1890 the first match between the Straits and Hong Kong took place on the latter's ground. The game was played in cold and wet weather, twelve men aside. The wicket was slow when Hong Kong batted, and by steady play a total of 280 was compiled. The visitors were handicapped by the weather, which gave some of them rheumatism, and Dr. Fox, a really good bowler, had an injured knee which prevented him from doing himself justice. Eight bowlers were tried, but only three were successful in taking wickets. The ground was in a better condition for the batsmen when the Straits opened their innings on the second day, but the team was dismissed twice for an aggregate of 133 runs, Hong Kong thus winning by an innings and 147 runs.

The first match between Shanghai and the Straits was played in Hong Kong in November, 1897. The superiority of the Straits over Shanghai was pronounced; but the kudos rested with their bowlers. The Shanghai skipper won the toss and chose to bat and after a game of fluctuating fortunes, the Straits won by an innings and 11 runs.

Since then, many a memorable match has been played between the three ports, and while the Hong Kong-Shanghai fixture has long since become an annual affair, the Hong Kong-Straits and Shanghai-Straits matches have not been so regular for obvious reasons. The last time we had a triangular interport here was in 1929 when Hong Kong beat both Shanghai and Malaya while Shanghai beat Malaya by one wicket in a very exciting game.

Rivalry in these interport contests is always keen, not only among the players, and supporters, but perhaps above all among the unofficial selectors of the teams! This, however, is not the place to make any comments on the merits and demerits of the teams! Suffice to say that three representative sides have been picked, and whoever carries the day, let us hope that the games will be played in the truest cricket spirit.

There is one thing that interport cricket matches never fail to bring out, and that is the knack Hong Kong people have of getting that half-hour off to watch part of the game, even during the busiest time of the day. What eagerness to "run round to the Bank" what readiness to interview the most difficult man in the town, what unexplained calls on the telephone, and if all else fails the simplest of formulae, "I'll be back in a few minutes!" Times are hard, we must, as Legislative councillors remind us from their Olympian heights, be prepared to work harder and longer; and yet, while the leisurely game of cricket endures, Englishmen will not wholly surrender to the yoke.

THE KING AND THE LORD MAYOR

London, October 18.
The Lord Mayor-elect will wait on the Lord Chancellor at the House of Lords this morning to receive from him the official communication that his election by the citizens of London has been graciously approved by the King.

The ceremony is always attended by the civic dignitaries in their official robes, and is presided over by the Lord Chancellor, who wears his robes of state.

It is a simple affair. The Recorder announces the fact of the Lord Mayor's election, and gives a résumé of his career, after which the Lord Chancellor signifies the King's approval and adds a few words on the dignity and importance of the Lord Mayor's office.

The circulation of the loving cup brings the picturesque little business to a close.

MR. THOMAS AND DERBY
Mr. J. H. Thomas is to have Socialist opposition at Derby, after all. His old union—the National Union of Railwaymen—has for many years regarded the representation of Derby as its own prerogative. But it will not finance an effort to win the seat against the former general secretary.

Local officials regard him as so strongly entrenched in the life of the borough that effort and money would be wasted in an attempt to displace him.

Both candidates are members of the Transport Workers' Union and I hear that Socialist party leaders will join in a campaign to unseat both the senior member and his Conservative colleague. Mr. W. A. Reid.

A STRENUOUS TOUR
Lord Dufferin and Ava and Sir Henry Bennett, the chancellor and secretary respectively of the Primrose League, look like having a strenuous fortnight ahead of them.

Sir Henry gave the writer a sketch of their itinerary yesterday. It is an imposing one. They start on Saturday at Blackpool, and thereafter until Oct. 28 will be addressing two or three meetings a day.

Their tour takes them up to Carlisle and Newcastle, and finishes at Bournemouth and Exeter. The large number of intermediate towns they will visit means that they will constantly be on the move.

NO FURTHER RESPIRE
Mr. Ramsay MacDonald attains his 67th birthday to-day. He will spend it at 10, Downing-street, and it will be a working day.

When the Prime Minister left Lissiesmouth at the end of August to return to London he had visions of enjoying a considerable amount of leisure, of which some portion could be devoted to "looking up" old friends.

But in these times the head of the Government finds little leisure to spare for the fulfilment of private engagements.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

His Excellency the Governor has re-appointed The Very Reverend Alfred Swann, M.A., D.S.C., to be a Member of the Board of Education for a further period of two years, with effect from 5th August, 1933. Mr. Chan Lim Pak to be a member of the Court of the University of Hong Kong for a period of three years, with effect from 3rd November.

Mr. John William Franks resumed duty as Superintendent of Prisons on the 3rd November, 1933.

Before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday morning, three Chinese, a man and two women, were charged with Keeping a House of Ill-fame.

A European Detective-Inspector who prosecuted, said that the first defendant was the principal tenant of No. 78, Woosung Street, 1st floor, Yaumatei, and the second and third were of No. 133, Keelung Street, 1st floor, Mong-kok, and during the raids, many sly-brothels were found in these two houses.

The Magistrate imposed a fine of $250 or three months' hard labour on the first defendant, and fines of $75 or six weeks' hard labour on the second and third.

While sleeping in his bunk in No. 8, Luen Hing Street, early on Saturday morning, a Chinese named Chow Wah suddenly fell out and suffered severe injuries. His head having hit a stool.

The other occupants of the room were all awakened by the accident, and on realising the serious condition of the victim, they at once sent for an ambulance and had him taken to the Government Civil Hospital in an unconscious state.

The Public Works Department is asking for tenders for dredging west of Kowloon Peninsula. The work comprises the providing of all plans and the dredging of over 1,000,000 cubic yards of material West of Kowloon Point and the disposal of same at Kun Tong, Kowloon Bay.

Tenders are also asked for levelling the site of the New Polo Ground and Stream Diversion etc., North of Boundary Street, Kowloon. The work comprises the levelling and turning of the site, the diversion of a stream course and the construction of a club pavilion with contingent works of a minor nature.

WILL RECORD BE BROKEN?

By G. Richards,
Englands Champion
Jockey

London, Nov. 5.

A great London crowd of fifty thousand was present at Hurst Park Races to see Gordon Richards ride his 246th winner this season, thus equalling Fred Archer's fifty year record. Richards rode in all six races but rode only one winner.

Richards resumes riding at Liverpool on November 8, and if he rides a winner on that day he will establish a new record.—Reuter.

IRELAND DRAW WITH WALES

Welsh Team Severely
Weakened

Belfast, November 4.
Ireland drew with Wales in the international here to-day, both sides scoring once.

The Welsh team, weakened through the refusal of English Clubs to release her best players, held Ireland to a creditable draw before 20,000 spectators. Wales' forwards were more impressive and clever, but their good work was spoilt by weak shooting and the sound Irish defence, which excelled against strong attack.

Grover, the Welsh centre-forward, was outstanding. He missed a chance to score in the opening minute but stoned in the fifth minute when he netted while the defenders were appealing for an off-side.

After resumption Ireland played up with determination. The Welsh defence was uncertain under severe pressure of the Irish attack and S. Jones equalised in the tenth minute of the second half.—Reuter.

were not late. But the crowds were dense, and as there was much to see it was noon before the party mounted to the gallery to declare the show open from the top of the staircase.

The little ceremony was well stage-managed, and indeed the whole show this year evinces signs of an imaginative brain at work.

BRITAIN WILL HONOUR HER WAR OBLIGATIONS

Sir F. Leith-Ross Leaving On November 8

BRITAIN EXPECTED TO MAKE "TOKEN" PAYMENT ON DEC. 15

Washington, November 5. The British Embassy has announced that Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, the British War Debts' Emissary is leaving on November 8.

It is believed that Britain will make another "token" payment on December 15 and that the whole issue will be postponed until the national monetary problem is settled. —Reuter.

CAPT. EDEN'S STATEMENT AT SKIPTON

London, Nov. 3. Referring to the European situation during a speech at Skipton, Yorkshire, last night, the Parliamentary Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Captain Anthony Eden, said that it was not surprising that Germany's withdrawal from the Disarmament Conference and the League of Nations had caused some concern and a measure of uneasiness in Europe.

There was, however, no occasion for scare-mongering. The situation could without doubt be redeemed. "To do so, we must keep our heads and our engagement," he said.

He proceeded to defend against certain criticism the Locarno Agreement, which he described as one of the most effective instruments for peace in Western Europe.

"The main instrument in that settlement," he said, "is the treaty of mutual guarantee. This is not an alliance of Britain and France against Germany—far from it. It is a conclusive agreement to which Germany, Belgium, France, and Great Britain are all parties."

"The arrangements made are purely defensive, and supplementary to the League Covenant."

They do not constitute in any sense an alliance between certain Powers directed against other Powers. By his Treaty of mutual agreement and guarantee, the Signatory Powers severally and collectively are guaranteed territorial status quo resulting from the frontier between Germany and Belgium and Germany and France, the inviolability of those frontiers, and the demilitarisation of Rhineland.

"The Treaty is interwoven with the machinery of the League. With one exception, the decision to be taken under it must be taken by the Council of the League. The Council can take no decision except if it be unanimous."

PASSENGER CARRYING ROCKET

Successful Experiments By German War Ministry

HEIGHT OF 32,000 FEET REACHED

London, Nov. 5. For the first time in history successful experiments were made with a passenger-carrying rocket, says the Sunday Referee. A most secret trial flight being made in the Baltic island of Rugen under the auspices of the German War Ministry who bought the plans of the Rocket from Otto Fischer.

A brother of the designer of the rocket, Bruno Fischer, risked his life to demonstrate the machine which is a twenty-four foot long steel shaped torpedo.

It was fired from a steel framework, after which it was impelled by rockets in the tail released automatically at timed intervals. The huge projectile soared over six miles into the air, the force of the descent being broken by a parachute attachment and landed safely.

BOXING

Rosenbloom Beats Mickey Walker

New York, November 4. Maxie Rosenbloom, the holder, beat Mickey Walker on points in a fifteen round fight for the world's light heavyweight boxing title at the Madison Square Garden to-day.

A crowd of 10,000 saw Rosenbloom secure the decision very easily. He won twelve of the fifteen rounds after he had lost the first round during which he was twice warned for fouling. He however, won the next seven rounds, punching Walker all round the ring.

Walker was hampered by a shorter reach, but very pluckily rallied in the ninth and tenth rounds when he obviously distressed Rosenbloom with a spirited, but short lived, twofisted attack.

After this, however, Rosenbloom had matters all his own way.—Reuter.

BRADMAN IN FORM

Scores 200 Against Queensland

Brisbane, November 4. Bradman, the famous Australian cricketer, scored a double century in his first innings of the season when playing for New South Wales against Queensland in the Sheffield Shield series.

Bradman was in scintillating form reaching the boundary on twenty-six occasions in his knock which lasted 184 minutes.—Reuter.

Recognised as the world's leading batsman, Bradman holds the record individual score in a Test match between England and Australia—334 at Leeds. He also holds the world record of 452, scored against Queensland.

MISS WETHERED TO TURN "PRO"?

London, November 4. The "Daily Mirror" announces on reliable authority that Joyce Wethered, four times British lady golf champion, is turning professional in the near future, and that she has already discussed the possibility with her advisers.

The London pictorial further states that in an interview Miss Wethered has refused to confirm or deny the report in the above statement and says that her plans for the future are indefinite.

Miss Wethered told the "Daily Mirror" that she contemplates playing in exhibition matches throughout the country.—Reuter.

MEETING OF LEAGUE COUNCIL REQUESTED

Warsaw, Nov. 5.

The High Commissioner of the League of Nations at Danzig, M. Rosting, has requested a meeting of the Council of the League to discuss the constitutionality of the action of the Danzig Police in suspending two Danzig newspapers for publishing a speech of the vice President of the Senate, M. Greiser, instructing the Danzig police they must hold Nazi opinions. M. Rosting asked the President of the Danzig Senate, M. Rauschnig, to revoke the suspension, but M. Rauschnig refused and declared on the contrary he would issue an order for the imprisonment of the complainants on the ground that their action endangered the security of the Free City.

The Labour-Socialist Association of Danzig has also protested to M. Rosting against its dissolution by the police on the ground of endangering security.—Reuter.

REVOLT IN SIAM

Guerilla Fighting Continues

Singapore, November 4. The revolt in Siam is continuing with unabated vigour. According to a Bangkok message, delayed by the censor, guerilla warfare is being carried on against the insurgents in north-eastern districts.

Damage to the extent of several million teals is estimated to have been caused by the revolt. The expenditure on the campaign is seriously affecting the administration which is already faced with financial difficulties.

The Siamese army has successfully exploited mechanised traction, aeroplanes and wireless in the present operations.

The Women's Party, under the leadership of the wife of the Premier of Siam, are assisting the Government troops. Their work, however, is confined to the rear of the fighting line and to help in feeding the troops.

The King's evacuation from his residence at Singora has not yet been reported, and it is assumed that he is still there.—Reuter.

REICHSTAG FIRE TRIAL

Goering Denies Fire Plot

Berlin, November 4. Dimitroff, the leading figure in the Reichstag fire trial, which has been occupying the attention of the Supreme Court at Leipzig for the past month, has been re-admitted to the Court. With the exception of brief intervals during the opening stages of the trial, Dimitroff, who is charged with high treason, has been excluded from the actual hearing.

The special dispensation was granted to-day to enable the accused man to hear the testimony of Captain Goering, the Premier of Prussia. The Court was crowded with police officers with clanking swords.

Captain Goering contemptuously refuted the Brown Book's "grotesque and absurd" allegation that he fired the Reichstag in accordance with Dr. Goebbels' plan. He extolled the strictly Parliamentary method employed by the Nazis.

He described how as head of the Prussian police he imbued them with a feeling of the true anti-Marxist spirit. He stated that he also imbued them with a feeling of reliance on him by telling them that "When you shoot, I shoot."

He raised a laugh in the Court when he referred to the comparatively humane treatment of the Communists by the Nazis.

"I am not so foolish as to imagine that Dimitroff's revolutionary tribunal would have proceeded so gently with us if our positions were reversed," he remarked.

To this, Dimitroff nodded a vigorous assent.—Reuter.

A PETITION TO CANTON

By H. Kong Chinese Merchants

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, November 5. Chinese merchants in Hong Kong have petitioned to the South-west Political Council that their manufactured goods produced from Chinese capital should not be treated as foreign goods when imported into Canton and other places in Kwangtung, according to the vernacular press.

It is said that the South-west Political Council is considering this matter and that the Hong Kong merchants after having submitted their petition and explained their predicament, have returned to the Colony. The vernacular papers stated that the petitioners represented the tobacco manufacturing concerns, salt fish dealers, printing companies, knitting factories and the Chinese chemists' guild of Hong Kong.

NO INCREASES IN TAXES

Customs' Officers' Statement

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, Nov. 5. Officials of the Chinese Maritime Customs here to-day stated that they have no instructions to levy duty on imports by an increased rate of twenty per cent. of the present schedule from the beginning of this month.

Recent press reports circulated here were responsible for the statement that the import duties would be raised by 20%, and colour to this report was lent by the heavy shipments of goods from foreign ports and Hong Kong a few days before November 1. Some ships were overloaded, and tide waiters had a busy time clearing the goods.

It was pointed out that any increase of customs duties is, as a rule, decided by the Nanking authorities and that changes of the tariff will be duly announced by the customs authorities here.

Importers greatly relieved by this denial, as increase of tariff will strike a heavy blow on foreign goods in Canton, which are already affected by the depreciating value of local currency and the present sufficiently high tariff rates, not to mention the weakening of the market on account of world-wide depression.

RE-CAPTURE OF FUNING

Bandits Driven Into The Hills

Peiping, Nov. 5.

"After an all night and most severe engagement in which the recently arrived heavy artillery played havoc with the bandit defenders, Chinese Special Police re-captured Funing this morning, according to a Chinese telegram from Changli."

ROOSEVELT TO ADHERE TO GOLD BUYING

Confidence In U.S. Monetary Unit Must Not Be Shaken

GENERAL ADVISER TO TREASURY TO RESIGN

New York, November 4.

President Roosevelt's determination to adhere to the Warden gold buying experiment despite the growing scepticism of his financial advisers is, according to the opinion expressed by the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune the reason underlying the reported decision of Mr. Sprague, General Adviser to the United States Treasury, to resign.

NO PROTESTS FROM BRITAIN OR FRANCE

The President has indicated that no protests were received from Great Britain or France when they were informed of the American objectives. The United States does not wish to injure the franc or to drive her off the gold standard.

A special meeting of the New York State Chamber of Commerce has unanimously passed a resolution demanding the prompt measures towards the restoration of a permanent gold standard declaring that the Administration should unequivocally announce that it will not adopt a managed commodity dollar. The Chamber believed that confidence must not be disturbed by the uncertainty of the future of the U.S.A. Monetary Unit.—Reuter.

Farmers Resort to Violence.

New York, Nov. 4. Despite the fact that the announcement of a tentative plan to relieve the farm emergency was made by the White House on Thursday, violence has flared up in the farm strike.

Two men were severely beaten by pickets at Woodbury County, Iowa yesterday, during an outbreak in which several shots were fired. Other minor disturbances are also reported.

A dynamite explosion wrecked two creameries at Shawano, Wisconsin, where pickets were trying to prevent the marketing of milk. Five hundred members of the Farm Holiday Association at Madison, Wisconsin, have voted in favour of the continuation of the farm strike.

An even more disquieting report comes from Minnesota. A message declaring that the farmers are organising military units, armed with tear gas bombs, has been sent to President Roosevelt by Mr. Francis Shoemaker, a congressman, of Redwing. He urges the immediate raising of farm prices as a necessary move to avoid serious trouble.—Reuter.

GENERAL HEUNG TO RESIGN

Canton, November 5. General Heung Hon Ping (Hsiang Han Ping), officer commanding the second Kwangtung army, issued a statement to-day stating that he is determined to resign from his military command and his concurrent duties as Pacification Commissioner of Central District.

About half of the 1,500 defenders are reported killed or wounded, the rest escaping to the hills.

It is generally believed in Chinese circles here that the bandit situation in Luantung has been settled with the re-capture of Funing.—Reuter.

PALESTINE AGAIN NORMAL

Special Police Disbanded

Jerusalem, November 5. While the feeling of tension has not completely subsided, Palestine has returned to a normal outward condition. Newspapers are reappearing and special constables have been disbanded. The situation is quiet.—Reuter.

Paris, November 4. The new French Cabinet, headed by M. Albert Sarraut, has passed its first test. The Chamber of Deputies passed a vote of confidence in the Government, by 320 votes to 32 on Friday.—Reuter.

DIVISION I.

ST. JOSEPH'S 4; ARTILLERY 2.
At Sookunpoo, on Saturday the Saints proved much too strong for the Gunners, their win of four goals to two being well deserved.

Right at the outset of the game, Leonard opened the score for the Saints from a perfect centre from Gosano, the latter also sending a very hard drive that Wroe, however, intercepted.

Owing to the good work of both defences, there was no further score until the approach of the interval when Seal, with a quick turn, sent in a shot from the wing that took Marques unawares, the ball lodging in the top corner of the net.

The Saints forward line combined well and they were ably backed up by the halves, Gosano and Elms playing very well, whilst Marques in goal, showed fine anticipation in saving some of the very dangerous shots that came from Greenfields.

Greenfields played a really superior game, and was very unfortunate in having two of his shots, that would otherwise have easily beaten Marques, strike the cross bar. Smith, the Gunners inside right was hopelessly lost, and Snooks on the outside was handicapped by his lack of partnership.

After the interval, Leonard broke through the Gunners defence, beating Woods with a hard drive from close in. Gosano, on the right wing, gave the inside men plenty of well placed centres, and it was from one of these that Ward obtained the Saints third goal.

At this stage of the game, the Saints were definitely the better team, but owing to a careless clear, the Gunners managed to break away on the left, Seal sending across a centre that resulted in a scramble in the Saints goal mouth. Marques managed to punch clear out only at the cost of another scramble, Leach managing to get his foot to the ball and score the Artillery's second goal.

The Saints again took command of the game, however, the Gunners being on the defensive most of the time, and it was not long before Gosano again ran down on the right to send across a centre that Ward got to running through on his own to beat Allen and Wroe, and sending the ball out of reach of Wood into the net.

Line-up:—

St. Josephs.—Marques, Gomes and A. V. Gosano. V. Marques; Beltrao and Elms; B. Gosano, A. Ward, D. Leonard, L. Rocha and M. Sahban.

Artillery.—Wood; Allen and Wroe; Harris, Padroe and Rodgers; Snooks, Smith, Leach, Green-shields and Seal.

KOWLOON V. RECREIO.

Kowloon were successful on the Railway ground against the Recreio by the odd goal in five. The visitors pressed from the kick off and Cord did well to keep his goal intact in the opening minutes. He was eventually beaten with a fast shot from Sousa to open the score. Kowloon fought back gamely and netted during a scramble in the goal area, but the point was disallowed.

Blake soon levelled up for Kowloon shooting into the net from close range. For a time Kowloon could do everything except to get the ball in the net. Shots struck the uprights and crossbar with Marques beaten. Kowloon took the lead when Marques made a weak clearance from a shot by Tillery and Jones being close up shot into the net before the goalie could recover.

Both goals had very narrow escapes, but there was no further scoring before the interval.

Resuming with a lead of two goals to one, Kowloon put on pressure and increased their lead through Winch. With Kowloon appealing for offside, Gomes went on and challenged by Cord he beat the goalkeeper and shot into an empty net. The Recreio netted again shortly after, but the point was disallowed for offside. The Recreio pressed and were unlucky in not drawing level. Several chances were offered, but shooting was wild.

Just on time Blake had a fine chance to increase the home team's lead but his shot cleared the bar.

Kowloon.—Cord; Hill, Willis; Whitfield, Bliss, Tillery; White. Winch, Elliott, Jones and Blake.

Recreio.—Marques; Bowen, Silva-Neto; Maher, Delgado, Gon-salves; Castilho, Guterres, Sousa Gomes and Santos.

POLICE V. R. NAVY.

The Police had hard luck in not sharing the points with the Navy in the match at Caroline Hill. In fact they appeared to be almost certain of both points at one stage of the game.

The Police took the lead early in the game when Gough snapped a pass from Shepherd and sent in a hard drive which Woodman failed to hold, the ball entering the net. The Navy fought back gamely but found the Police defence very sound. McHardy was in good form in goal. The Navy continued to press and levelled up through Barnett who headed into the net well out of McHardy's reach.

Green got through, but delaying his shot was well beaten by West.

Resuming with the score one all, the Police put up a strong raid on the Navy goal, but the Navy defence was sound.

The Police had hard luck when Brooks went through to beat Woodman but his shot hit the bar and West cleared from the rebound.

Channings tried hard to keep his forwards close in, but they failed to get the ball in the net. Thomas was forced to leave the field for a short time following an injury.

Just on time Fairless went away on the right and cutting in beat McHardy to score the winning goal of the match.

Police.—McHardy, Blackthorne, Pile, Perkins, Channings, Brittain; Moss, Gough, Green, Brooks and Shepherd.

R. Navy.—Woodham; James and West; Purkins, McQuire, Thomas; Fairless, Smith, Langmead, Barnett and Burnage.

Both goals had very narrow escapes, but there was no further scoring before the interval.

Resuming with a lead of two goals to one, Kowloon put on pressure and increased their lead through Winch. With Kowloon appealing for offside, Gomes went on and challenged by Cord he beat the goalkeeper and shot into an empty net. The Recreio netted again shortly after, but the point was disallowed for offside. The Recreio pressed and were unlucky in not drawing level. Several chances were offered, but shooting was wild.

Just on time Blake had a fine chance to increase the home team's lead but his shot cleared the bar.

Kowloon.—Cord; Hill, Willis; Whitfield, Bliss, Tillery; White. Winch, Elliott, Jones and Blake.

Recreio.—Marques; Bowen, Silva-Neto; Maher, Delgado, Gon-salves; Castilho, Guterres, Sousa Gomes and Santos.

POLICE V. R. NAVY.

The Police had hard luck in not sharing the points with the Navy in the match at Caroline Hill. In fact they appeared to be almost certain of both points at one stage of the game.

The Police took the lead early in the game when Gough snapped a pass from Shepherd and sent in a hard drive which Woodman failed to hold, the ball entering the net. The Navy fought back gamely but found the Police defence very sound. McHardy was in good form in goal. The Navy continued to press and levelled up through Barnett who headed into the net well out of McHardy's reach.

Green got through, but delaying his shot was well beaten by West.

Resuming with the score one all, the Police put up a strong raid on the Navy goal, but the Navy defence was sound.

The Police had hard luck when Brooks went through to beat Woodman but his shot hit the bar and West cleared from the rebound.

Channings tried hard to keep his forwards close in, but they failed to get the ball in the net. Thomas was forced to leave the field for a short time following an injury.

Just on time Fairless went away on the right and cutting in beat McHardy to score the winning goal of the match.

Police.—McHardy, Blackthorne, Pile, Perkins, Channings, Brittain; Moss, Gough, Green, Brooks and Shepherd.

R. Navy.—Woodham; James and West; Purkins, McQuire, Thomas; Fairless, Smith, Langmead, Barnett and Burnage.

SUNDAY'S GAME

South China Defeat Borderers

TWO PLAYERS ORDERED OFF THE FIELD

A large crowd turned out to witness the Division I League game played at Sookunpoo on Sunday, the result ending in favour of South China by three goals to two.

Before play had been in progress twenty seconds, the Borderers were leading scoring almost from the centre kick. Fourty snapping up from a rebound after Li Tin Sang had made a weak clearance, rushed in and shot hard at Wong Wing, the goalie failing to hold the ball and let it into the net.

The Borderers almost increased their lead in the next minute, Wong scrambling the ball away during a scramble in the goal area.

At the other end Pau Ka Ping cleared the bar from a good position. The Borderers were soon back again, Wong clearing from almost under the bar from a shot by Duncan. Pau Ka Ping levelled up from a fast low shot, the ball striking the foot of the upright before going into the net. Lau Man was off his field when his side levelled up, he having previously collided with a player when heading the ball.

A few minutes after the second half started, play had to be held up as the crowd in the open stand rushes the field to cross to the covered stand as rain commenced. Immediately on resuming, South China took the lead from a corner kick. Tam Kong Pak heading into the net. The Borderers were not long in arrears, for following a corner kick, Harris shot in during a crowd and the ball rebounded from the underside of the crossbar into the net to make the score two all. Previous to this goal being scored, the Borderers had failed to convert a penalty kick awarded against Tong Kwan for a foul on Duncan inside the area. Hazlewood took the spot kick and Wong Wing cleared.

Both teams went all out to win in the closing minutes and a corner was forced by South China. From a well placed flag kick Tam Kong Pak headed into the net to again give South China the lead. A last minute rush by the Borderers almost brought them success, but Fourty shot weakly when well placed. Just before the final whistle sounded, Tay Quahong kicked underwood and the latter retaliated which led to both players being ordered off the field. Tay is South China's latest recruit and this was his first match with them.

South China.—Wong Wing; Li Tin Sang, Lau Man; Tong Kwan, Leung Wing Chui, Lai Kwok Wal; Yeung Shui Yick, Tam Kong Pak, Pau Ka Ping, Wong Mei Shun and Tay Quahong.

South Wales Borderers.—Smith; Sgt. Harris, Morrison; Wallace, Podmore, Underwood; Mathias, Harris, Fourty, Hazlewood and Duncan.

SOUTH CHINA V. H. K. CLUB.

Playing at Caroline Hill, South China defeated the Club by five clear goals. Lai Shui Wing opened the score. The Club got together and for a time held the upper hand. Crossing over a goal in the lead, South China took charge of the game and added to their score through Yeung Foon Hon. The same player scored the third. Kam Shik Wal and Lai Shui Wing scored for South China before the final whistle sounded.

DIVISION III.

RECREIO V. R.A.F.

Playing at King's Park, the Airmen defeated the Recreio by the odd goal in three. Gregory opened the score for the Airmen and Gaan of the Recreio in trying to clear shot the ball into his own net to give the Airmen a two goals lead.

Before the final whistle sounded Campos scored for Recreio.

S.W. BORDERERS V. UNIVERSITY.

The Borderers had a very easy win over the Radio at Happy Valley the score being seven goals to one.

Furcell (3), Nelson (2), Morgan and Sellars score for the winners, while Kitchell scored for the losers.

SOUTH CHINA V. UNIVERSITY.

South China winning against the Borderers last week by three goals to one, could only draw with the University on the Athletic ground this week, the score being two all, thereby giving the University their first point in the league this season. Tjoe and Neu scored for the University, while Tsa Yum Yue and Lam Wing Kwong scored for South China.

LINCOLN REGT. V. R.E.

The Sappers failed against the leaders on the Chatham Road ground going down by two clear goals.

R.A.M.C. V. R.A.S.C.

These teams shared the points in one goal all match on the Military ground within the racecourse. Whitley scored for the R.A.S.C. and Adams for the R.A.M.C.

CRICKET

Two Malayan Inter-porters in Action

A number of friendly cricket match, two of the Malayan cricket and in the University-Indians match, two of the Malayan cricket ers, W. O. Jonkass and B. S. Gill were seen in action.

The former played for the University and made 33 runs. He also bowled 5 overs, four of which were maidens, for 6 runs, while Gill, playing for the Indians, made 38 not out.

LAWN BOWLS

Taikoo's Closing Day Match

"Taikoo hospitality," so familiar to sportsmen in general and lawn bowlers in particular, was very much in evidence last Saturday afternoon when the Taikoo Recreation Club held their "closing day," and during the course of the afternoon, an extremely enjoyable mixed lawn bowls match was played between the "A" and "B" teams, made up of members and friends of the Club.

The "B" team won by a majority of 23 shots, but the game was evenly contested right up to the end, some of the ladies playing really good bowls.

At the conclusion of the game, prizes won during the season were distributed by Mrs. K. E. Greig who was later presented with a bouquet by Miss Keown.

Mr. J. Russell, president of the Lawn Bowls Association, made a short speech and referred to the growing interest which the ladies were taking in the game. He expressed the hope that very soon matches between the ladies of the various Clubs will be inaugurated.

The following were the scores of the afternoon's game:—

YACHT CLUB AT HOME

Opening Cruise Of The Season

The Royal Hongkong Yacht Club on Saturday afternoon held its opening cruise of the season. Close finish in the yachting and rowing events were the order of the day while a faring exhibition, provided by members of the Hongkong Sailing Club, made a fitting finale to an excellent afternoon's sport.

A stiff breeze prevailing throughout the afternoon made sailing conditions ideal but those who took part in the rowing events found it rather a handi-cap.

Mrs. F. Elliot, wife of Commodore Elliot, gave away the prizes at the end of the afternoon's sport after which she was presented with a bouquet by little Miss Learner Raiton.

In calling upon Mrs. Elliot to give away the prizes, Mr. H. S. Rouse said that they had just witnessed some excellent sport and he wished to congratulate the ladies on the efficient manner in which they handled their boats, which were a much increase since this year.

So far as the rowing events were concerned, Mr. Rouse said that youth had triumphed, but he felt sure that Ewo, with more practice, would put up a better show next year.

ST. ANDREW'S INTERNATIONAL PAGEANT

Charming Scenes At St.
Andrew's Church Grounds

LADY PEEL PERFORMS OPENING CEREMONY

Dressed in their neat uniforms, a group of Brownies formed a miniature guard of Honour for His Excellency and Lady Peel when they entered the grounds of St.
Andrew's Church, Kowloon, to open the International Fair and Pageant, on Saturday afternoon. The Government House party were met at the entrance by the members of the Executive Committee and were escorted to a raised platform where the opening ceremonies took place.

Following a short prayer by the Vicar, the Rev. W. W. Rogers, the Right Rev. Bishop Hall introduced the guests of honour and expressed the gratitude of the committee to Sir William and Lady Peel for their presence. Bishop Hall regretted that Mrs. Rogers was unable to attend owing to illness, but extend the wishes of all present for her speedy recovery. Lady Peel then declared the fête open.

Mr. J. H. Hunt, Chairman of the Executive Committee also expressed the appreciation of the members of the Church for His Excellency and Lady Peel's assistance towards the success of the pageant, by their presence and voiced the gratitude of the conveners, to all who had lent their time and talent to the cause.

The Rev. W. W. Rogers outlined the object of their fair and after a floral presentation had been made to Lady Peel the guests were conducted round the grounds.

Charming Decorations.

The grounds of St. Andrew's Church, with their trees and flowers made a delightful setting.
They had been very well decorated with flags of all kinds and nationalities, and in the evening the whole scene was charmingly illuminated.

The stalls were attractively set out, and while in these functions the raising of money is not forgotten the usual tradition of St.
Andrew's functions were observed and prices were reasonable—not a few real bargains being obtained especially at the toy stalls.

The number of visitors was very large indeed, but a noticeable feature was the large numbers of both men and ladies in really delightful costumes, showing what a host of helpers the Vicar of St. Andrew's is able to collect for these occasions.

Charming girls and women, in bright coloured costumes representing nearly every nation in the world, stood at their national stalls and served a steady stream of patrons. Here an Irish Colleen sold, bottled fruits and provisions.

There an English Miss, dressed in her wide brimmed bonnet and hoop skirt offered lavender sachets. A little further on, in wooden shoes and starched hat, Holland's representatives stood, sold chocolates and sweets, while games of hoop-la, throwing the dart, and cocoa-nut shies and a miniature switch-back were in the main, under the supervision of the Boy Scouts.

THE PAGEANT

The pageant proper, which began at half-past three was most effectively staged on the Vicarage tennis lawn. From the prologue by Father Time to the incident of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock, the programme was a great success and the grace, precision and self-assurance with which the actors, young and old, carried out their parts showed that many hours of tedious study and training had been spent by performers and instructors alike. While all the incidents went well, perhaps special mention should be made of the Lantern Dance (China) by the girls of St. Stephen's College.
Their costumes were extraordinarily beautiful, and the delightful tableaux effects will long be remembered.

Joan of Arc by the Diocesan Girls' School was also excellently acted and produced, D. Henderson being a most impressive Maid.
We mention these two incidents to show what admirable dramatic training is being done in the Colonial schools.

The executive committee who were in a large manner responsible for the success of the entertainment consisted of Mr. J. H. Hunt, chairman; Mr. F. W. E. Dann, Hon.
Secretary; Mr. J. W. Baldwin, Hon.
Treasurer; the Rev. and Mrs. W.
Rogers; Mr. R. Baldwin; Mr. O. B.
Raven; Mr. R. Dormer; Miss M.
Woolley; Mr. G. B. Labrum; Mr. W.
H. C. Robson; and Mr. E. F. Fincher.

A carnival dance held in the church hall in the evening concluded Saturday's programme, but the pageant will be repeated again to-day.

CHINESE POLICE RESERVE

Entertainment to be Given at the King's

Under the patronage of the Honourable Inspector General of Police, Mr. E. D. O. Wolfe O.M.G.,
the Chinese Company of the Police Reserve will have a Chinese variety entertainment at the King's Theatre on Thursday the 9th of November at 9.30 p.m.; at which
His Excellency the Governor Sir William and Lady Peel have kindly consented to be present.

The Chinese Company was formed in 1927, being the first unit of the Police Reserve to come into being.
Starting with twenty odd members,
the Company has grown by leaps and bounds to the present strength of one hundred.

Apart from the issue of uniforms and equipment by the Government, the Company itself has to bear a heavy expenditure such as rental of the Headquarters premises, and other expenses which are at present defrayed by a Finance Committee consisting of the Hon. Dr. S. W.

T'ao, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau,
Messrs. Li Yau Tsun, Kwok Siu
Lau, Chan Lim Pak, Ngan Shing
Kwan, Leung Pat Yau, Chan
Tung Sang, Mok Kon Sang, Tang Shiu Kin, Li Sang Kui and P. R.
Sin.

This will be the first occasion on which a Chinese performance has been staged at the King's Theatre.
There will be a long and varied programme and an enjoyable and novel experience is in store for the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Sit Kok Sin, well known artists on both the stage and screen, together with several excellent amateurs, will take part in the performance. An excellent opportunity will thus be afforded to the European Community of the Colony to see and hear the best Chinese players and music in ideal surroundings.

It is hardly necessary to enlarge upon the important position occupied by the Chinese Company in the Police Reserve, and it is hoped that the public will give the function its whole-hearted support.

Charges of admission range from $1.00 to $5.00 and advance booking will be open at the King's Theatre from Wednesday the 8th November.

CLUB v. SOUTH WALES
BORDERERS

Club won by two goals and two tries (16 points) to a goal (5 points).
The Club tries were scored by Lam-mert (2), Ferguson and Rigg. Mc-Lellan and Robertson converted a try each. The Borderers try was scored by Pte. Walters. Pte. Lloyd converted. For the mayor part of the game the Borderers had only 14 men and for the last ten minutes only 13. The Club however were full value for their win being superior in all departments. Lieut. D.
Lampen R.N., lined up the following teams.

Club:—J. P. Whitham; J. J.
Ferguson, W. H. B. Rigg, L. G.
Robertson and G. P. Lammert; J.
Hutchison and J. A. R. Selby

Tratt, L/Cpl. Hardy, Pte. Gilmore,
Pte. Lloyd, Pte. Whelan, Pte. Jones
and Pte. Walters.

CLUB A. v. NAVY A.

Prior to the above game the Club
"A" side met a Navy "A" side the latter winning by four tries and one goal (17 points) to three tries (9 points). The Club did extremely well to keep the score so low as the Navy fielded an extremely strong fifteen including Lt. St. Clair Ford, the Scottish International wing three quarter who scored three tries, and Lieuts. Linton, Nixon, Miers and Slater who have all been capped for the Navy at Home.
Lt. Miers and E. R. A. Thomas scored the other Navy tries, the latter converting his own. The Club tries were scored by Griffiths, Harris Walker and Jenkins.
The Rev. P. R. Evans, R. N. referred and lined up the following teams:

Club: S. Strange; C. S. Archer,
R. H. Griffiths, D. Hynes, W. Harris Walker; A. F. Jenkins, H. O.
Meeke; W. R. Andrews, A. R. Cox,

TROUBLE IN LASCAR ROW

Sikh Policeman Fires at Crowd

Luan Lin, a shop foki is suffering from the effects of a bullet wound in his foot as the result of a shooting affray which took place at ten o'clock yesterday morning in lower Lascar Row.

The trouble started when a Sikh policeman attempted to arrest a woman. A crowd gathered and began to hurl stones at the constable, whereupon he drew his revolver and fired at the mob. When the attackers had been dispersed it was found that Luan Lin was the only casualty.

SHIPPING COYS. TO COMBINE?

Cunard and White Star Lines

London, Nov. 4.
The Directors of the Cunard and White Star Lines are to hold a meeting in London to consider proposals for a working agreement between the two companies.

An intimate working agreement between the two companies would enable the Cunard Company to secure a substantial Government loan to complete the giant liner on which work is still held up.

It is believed that negotiations have reached the stage of forming a new operating Company, but official confirmation is withheld pending the formation of the Company. It is learned in the most authoritative shipping circles that it is too early to say when the shipping conference will definitely meet, but there is a strong feeling in many quarters that such a conference is the only solution to the shipping crisis.—Reuter.

Nanking, October 29.—In a petition to the Executive Yuan, the Ministry of Railways requests that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs be instructed to notify the Asiatic Petroleum Company, through the British Consulate to remove its oil tanks, situated near the wharf for the Fukow Train Ferry railway, to a safer distance from the railway. This step is required in order to safeguard the Peking-Shanghai train service from possible damage in case of fire breaking out in the A.P.C. oil tanks.—Kuo Min.

U.S. PROCESSING TAX ON WHEAT

Reduced to 20 Cents Till Dec. 1

Washington, Nov. 5.
Mr. Wallace has reduced from November 5 the Processing Tax on corns from twenty-eight to five cents per bushel until December 1, when it will be raised to twenty cents.—Reuter.

EMPIRE CARGOES FOR EMPIRE SHIPS

London, Nov. 4.
An All-Empire Conference will meet in London early in 1934 to preserve the Empire's cargoes for Empire ships, states the Daily Express to-day.

An organising committee is being formed and invitations will be despatched to the representative shipping interests in the Dominions and the Colonies, this month.—Reuter.

WEEKLY TREASURY ISSUE

Applications Received For £77,280,000.

London, Nov. 4.
A total of £77,280,000 was applied for in Treasury bills weekly tenders. The average rate per cent. was 17 1/2, as compared with 16 1/2 last week.—British Wireless Service.

OFFICER'S LIABILITY IN COLLISION CASES

The draft convention on criminal jurisdiction in cases of collision at sea which is being placed before the conference of the International Maritime Committee contains a clause which is of special moment to ships' personnel. The passage runs:

"In the event of a collision occurring within the territorial waters of a contracting State, the master of the ship, or any other person in the service of the vessel, may be prosecuted by reason of such collision before the penal courts of that State." Since the subject is of great concern to the officers' organisations, it has for some time past been under the joint consideration of those bodies affiliated with the National Maritime Board, and representing thereon the interests of the masters and navigation, and engineer officers of British merchant ships. They include the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, Mercantile Marine Service Association, Marine Engineers' Association, Limited, and the Amalgamated Engineering Union, representing, in all, over twenty thousand officers of the British Merchant Navy. They have agreed that the convention is opposed to the best interests of those for whom they stand, and they far from approve of any convention which establishes the principle, internationally, of criminal prosecutions of the responsible officers of merchant ships in cases where their ships have been in collision. (From the Syren and Shipping, London.)

SHIPPING RATES WAR

Transatlantic Lines At Variance

There are distinct possibilities of a rate war in the North Atlantic passenger trade in the near future. The conference which has been sitting to endeavour to fix a scale acceptable to all owners of whatever nationality or class of vessel has so far met only with failure. The quarrel is between the owners of "cabin" class ships built definitely to cater for the economy mood of the present day, and the lines owning larger, older and faster ships, which are now charging, by previous agreement, much higher fares. The largest owners of the "cabin" class ships are probably the United States Lines, whose East-bound passenger traffic is said to have increased nearly 100 per cent. over the 1932 amount. These interests are vigorously combating any attempt on the part of the other side to bring their fare rates more into line. They argue that they have built their ships to attract present-day traffic, and they are entitled to reap the benefit. The disagreement is of course intensified by the subsidies in force on the other side of the Atlantic, which prevent the problem being settled on an economic basis.

A rate war would be harmful to all interests, and the conference is labouring to prevent it materialising. But the fact remains that many lines have already given notice of their intention to withdraw from the discussion. It is being said, too, that if a rate war must come, it will be better to have it now when there is little to lose rather than in more prosperous times.

NEURALIA ARRIVES TO-DAY

The transport Neuralia arrived from Shanghai yesterday morning, and will remain in Hong Kong until Friday November 10 when she will depart for Shanghai again.

One hundred other ranks of the 2nd Battalion, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, will disembark this morning and proceed to Shamshuipo where they will be billeted, while the 2nd Battalion, the East Lancashire Regiment, will also land and proceed to Sun Wai Camp, Fanling, for training.

"BACK TO COAL" MOVEMENT

Those responsible for the South Wales "Back to Coal" movement, in view of the Admiralty shipbuilding programme, are urging that all new vessels for the British Navy should be coal-burners. It is urged that with modern furnaces coal will give greater efficiency and economy than oil, and that while the return to coal would mean more employment in this country, the Navy would be relieved of the strategic duty of protecting oil-pipe lines in possibly hostile countries. It is also claimed that the Battle of Jutland showed that coal-burning ships with side bunkers were less vulnerable than oil-burning vessels. —Engineering.
